They had pleaded guilty to using the mails to defraud five airline companies. The other two are Richard L. Dodd and William D. Wolff.

They were accused of ordering plane tickets and having them sent to hotels by mail. They picked up and resold the tickets within the 72 hours that payments for such tickets must be made.

overloads at the magistrate level. He said one assistant handles a Granite City docket of 180 jury cases and a total of about 500 cases a month.

Smith told the committee that funds could be taken from an excess of $200,000 which was budgeted for the new detention home but which will not be used this year.

He also said that the county could derive additional funds if sheriff's deputies made traffic arrests, but that the sheriff's office also is undermanned. He noted that, last year, deputies made six traffic arrests.

Low Budget Here

He noted that Madison county has budgeted $67,000 for 12 assistant state's attorneys at a per capita cost of 23 cents, while counties of similar size range up to $335,000 and 83 cents. He said a per capita of 38 cents would be more than double the budget here.

Nelson Hagner, Granite City supervisor and committee chairman, said that "if you can show the people why the money is needed, the people won't mind paying it."

Griffith said that at the current rate, he expects his office to run out of funds in about two and a half months.

The committee took the request under advisement.

St. Louis Symphony Opens River Festival Friday

In a picturesque hollow, found in the heavily wooded and rolling hills section of Southern Illinois University—Southwestern campus, the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra will open the Mississippi River Festival this weekend with a series of three concerts starting Friday at 8:30 p.m.

The Festival site, a natural amphitheatre, formed by sloping lawns surrounded by dense groves of tall trees will be the summer home of the 83-member orchestra for the six-week Festival season.

The St. Louis Symphony, now in its 89th year, is America's second oldest symphony orchestra. Walter Susskind, internationally renowned conductor, is in his first season as conductor and music director.

Born in Prague where he began his musical career, Maestro Susskind has toured extensively throughout the world as both conductor and pianist. From 1934 until 1938, he was conductor of the Prague German Opera House.

He emigrated to England and, later, conducted the Sadlers Wells Opera, Scottish National Orchestra, Glyndebourne Opera, Australian Broadcasting Commission and Victoria Symphony in Melbourne and the Toronto Symphony, of which he was conductor and music director for nine years.

Conductor Since 1962, Susskind has been conductor and music director of the Aspen Music Festival. He is well known to music lovers through his many recordings.

In January 1968, the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra moved to its first permanent home, Powell Symphony Hall, an elegant old theatre completely renovated in the European style and acclaimed by the national press for its superb acoustics.

WALTER SUSSKIND
Symphony Conductor

In February and March, the orchestra made an extensive Eastern tour, including appearances at New York's Carnegie Hall and Washington's Constitution Hall, returning again to the East coast cities for additional performances last December.

The St. Louis Symphony's position in America's musical life was emphasized when St. Louisans achieved a $4 million capital funds drive to match a $2 million Ford Foundation grant establishing a substantial endowment fund, and to completely renovate Powell Symphony Hall.

The Mississippi River Festival will be similar in format to the Boston Symphony's presentations at Tanglewood, the Philadelphia Orchestra at Saratoga and the Cleveland Orchestra at Blossom.

Pop, Folk Music

In addition to the classical programs, the Festival will present a series of 12 special events—performances by top popular and folk music artists in the country.

For those who enjoy classical music, the Symphony Orchestra will perform concerts each Friday.

day, Saturday and Sunday evening during the six-week season. Sunday concerts begin at 7:30 p.m. All others, including weekday popular shows are at 8:30 p.m.

This Friday and Saturday, the concert programs are identical. Content includes:

Trumpet Voluntary, by Purcell; Symphony No. 8 in B Minor, "Unfinished," by Schubert; and Symphony No. 9 in D Minor Opus 125, "Choral," by Beethoven.

Featured will be Sarah Franklin, soprano; Batyah Godfrey, contralto; Jerald Becker, tenor; Robert Shiesley, baritone; and the Cosmopolitan Singers, Helen Louise Grees, director.

Sunday Concert

The Sunday concert which changes in content is entitled "A Festival of Ballet" and includes the following selections:

Three Dances from the Ballet "Swan Lake," Opus 20, by Tchaikovsky; Peter and the Wolf, Opus 67, by Prokofiev; Ballet Music from "El Cid," by Massenet; and Ballet music from "Faust," by Gounod.

Other classical artists in concert during the Festival will include Van Cliburn, the popular young virtuoso who played first in public at the age of four at Dodd College, Shreveport, La., and at twelve won a state-wide young pianist's competition, performing with the Houston Symphony.

Even though he was well known to the American musical world in 1958 when he went to Moscow, Van Cliburn was almost unknown to the great public. When front-page stories of the hysterical acclaim by the Russians began to appear, the Cliburn legend was born overnight in the public mind.

He returned from Moscow a hero after winning the Tchaikovsky Competition and was accorded Manhattan's first ticker-tape parade for a musician. His recordings, subsequently, sold in incredible numbers.

Van Cliburn will play with the St. Louis Symphony July 11 and 12.

Distinguished cellist, Leonard Rose, will perform at the June 27-28 concert; Itzhak Perlman, violinist, July 3 and 5; and pianist Alicia de Larrocha, July 19.

There will be an evening with the Russian masters July 6, at which the world renowned pianist, Ruth Shenyukina, will play. An all-Brahms night is set for July 13 and a Tchaikovsky program for July 20, featuring soprano Jodanna Rogers.

For Beethoven lovers the final concert on July 27 will include music from Prometheus, Wellington's Victory and Symphony No. 5.

Tickets, ranging in price from $1.50 for lawn and $2.50 to $4.50 for reserved seats are available at area banks, department stores, SIU-SW and the St. Louis Symphony box office, 718 North Grand Blvd., St. Louis. All box seats at $5.50 each are sold out.

Festival coupon books may be obtained at Quad-City banks, with the coupons then exchanged for tickets. Books containing $25 worth of tickets may be purchased for $20. Mrs. Vasil Eftimoff and E. A. Karandjef are co-chairmen of ticket sales for the Quad-Cities.

National YMCA Meeting In St. Louis Thursday

An estimated 10,000 YMCA officials, directors and members from all sections of the United States will convene this week in St. Louis for the National YMCA convention, which opens Thursday at Kiel Auditorium.

Marvin Van Metre, executive director of the Tri-Cities YMCA, reported on convention plans Thursday noon at a meeting of Granite City Optimists. The national conference will be combined this year with the 125th anniversary celebration of the founding of the YMCA.

Speakers at the four-day meeting will include the great-grandson of the YMCA founder George Williams, who is a British Member of Parliament, and widely-known television entertainer, Art Linkletter, who also serves on the National YMCA Council.

An innovation in convention procedures will highlight the 1969 meeting, the "Y" director explained. Conferees will have an opportunity for direct participation in the program by means of electronic equipment installed at Kiel Auditorium by Xicom, Inc., which will permit instant response by the delegates to presentations and issues discussed by speakers.

"Gearing-up the 'Y' programs for the 1970s will keynote the entire convention," Van Metre said, adding that the theme is especially timely for the local YMCA which is in the process of program renewal and development.

Guidelines for the revitalizing program, recommended and developed by the National YMCA, include compilation of needs found in a community which may be served through "Y" programs, and evaluating current services and programs, weighing the results of a study against the objectives of the overall YMCA organization policies.

Among the YMCA objectives, Van Metre said, are providing the means for an individual to gain self-respect and self-confidence; inter-group activity; injecting faith into daily living; and health in mind and in body.

The National YMCA currently has 4½ million members, the director told Optimist members. Locally, in 1968, a total of 2316 individuals holding "Y" memberships were involved in programs, while several thousand non-members participated in other YMCA-sponsored projects, such as dances and similar activities. In 1967, a total of 1660 persons held local "Y" memberships.

Bill Irelan, Boy Scout executive, introduced the guest speaker. Also during the luncheon meeting, held in the YMCA, Herman Mueller presented a patriotic reading in observance of "Flag Day," and Fred Cunningham conducted a short business session.

Miss Linda Kay Lowder and Kenneth R. Aud are Wed

Miss Linda Kay Lowder, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Lowder of 2901 Idaho avenue, became the bride of Kenneth Robert Aud, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Aud of Lombard, Ill., at 2 o'clock Saturday at the First United Presbyterian Church. Rev. David B. Maxton performed the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with white flowers and greenery.

Lighting the candles were Gene Livingston and Miss Debbie Epperson.

Kenneth MacClatchy presided at the organ and accompanied the soloist, Keith Curtis.

Mr. Lowder escorted his daughter down the white carpeted aisle and gave her in marriage.

She selected a pure silk organza gown of Chantilly lace of classic styling. The high neckline was of scalloped lace and her Empire bodice was lace embellished in seed-pearls. The long traditional sleeves ended in points at the wrists. Deep lace detailed the hemline of the gown and a detachable train flowed gracefully from the waistline, with lace motifs appliqued at random on the train.

A waterfall headpiece held securely a melody length veil of imported French illusion, and she carried a white tea-drop bouquet of carnations and daisies centered with a detachable orchid corsage.

Mrs. Cecelia Kleinschmidt, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor, while Mrs. Linda Givens and Mrs. Kathie Welch served as bridesmaids. Kim Kleinschmidt, the bride's niece, and Becky Aud, a sister of the groom, were the junior bridesmaids.

They were dressed alike in floor length, pale aqua dotted swiss gowns designed with rounded necklines, short puffed sleeves and their Empire waistlines were accented with narrow white satin ribbon. Watteau panels flowed gently at the back of the gowns. They wore bows with long streamers, of matching material, in their hair.

Their flowers were arrangements of white carnations and daisies tinted blue to match their gowns.

Susan Squires was flower girl wearing a short frock of aqua aqua dotted swiss fashioned with puffed sleeves, a high neckline and a matching pinafore. She carried a basket of rose petals.

Ronnie Nelson served as the ring bearer.

Earl Kleinschmidt, brother-in-law of the bride, served as best man, with Doug Pritchard, a cousin of the groom, and Stan Welch as groomsmen. Seating the guests were Randy Aud and Tom Aud, brothers of the groom, Ralph Harris and Dennis Carlisle.

The groom's mother chose a dotted swiss fashioned with a powder blue bodice silk tunic with a high neckline, and her accessories were in matching shades. Both mothers wore white carnation corsages.

A reception was given immediately following the ceremony in the church parlors. Assisting with the reception were Misses Sue Mance, Janice Hinkley, Jani Press, Linda Davis, Barbara Wood, Carol Wilson. Attending the guest book were Miss Kathy Kinkel and Miss Jane Paderka and with the rice packets were Beth Squires and Pamela Snellson.

The former Miss Lowder was graduated in 1966 from the local high school and is a senior at SIU-SW campus studying to become an elementary education teacher.

Mr. Aud was graduated from Lawton high school, Lawton,

Jones and Wehrle Nuptials Saturday in Vandalia, Ill.

An out-of-town wedding of interest here was that Saturday in Vandalia, Ill., of Miss Kathy Sue Wehrle and Bruce Ray Jones.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Wehrle, 128 Kennedy Blvd., Vandalia, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones, 1389 West Pontoon road, Granite City.

The candlelight ceremony took place at 8 o'clock in the evening at First Pentecostal Church with the Rev. J. H. Reiter officiating. A reception followed in the church educational building.

Arrangements of white flowers and greenery, together with white bows on the pews, provided the setting for the service.

A gown of French crepe styled with a high-rise bodice of Venice lace had a wedding veil collar and long tapered sleeves. The skirt ended in a detachable court train.

The bride held a bouquet of white orchids, stephanotis and snow-drift pom poms centered with a corsage.

Miss Carolyn Modglin, maid of honor, Miss Diane Martin and Miss Fran Sexton, bridesmaids, and Debby Wehrle, the bride's sister, junior maid, were dressed alike in gowns of aqua aqua georgette with high collars and bishop sleeves cuffed with satin. Matching satin also trimmed the panel trains. They carried aqua snowdrift pom poms and purple statice with greenery.

A little flower girl, Elizabeth Tretter, in aqua with a white organza pinafore, carried a basket of petals. Jimmy Hudson served as ring bearer.

Attendants for the bridegroom were Danny Chaney, best man, and Dennis Randle, Steve Wehrle, the bride's brother, and Mike Phillips junior groomsmen. John and Mike Wehrle, brothers of the bride, served as ushers.

After a honeymoon at Rustic Acres in Kirbyville, Mo., the couple will reside at 2436 Grand avenue.

The former Miss Wehrle holds a teaching position at the Cloverview Child Care Center. Mr. Jones attended Gateway College of Evangelism and served as president of his class and of the Missionary Club. He is employed as an orderly at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Miss Linda-Louise Melichar, David Tweed Wed Saturday

Among the many late spring weddings taking place over the weekend was that Saturday evening of Miss Linda-Louise Melichar, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Melichar, 2434 Dewey avenue, and David Walter Tweed, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tweed of Worden, Ill.

The vows were exchanged at 8 o'clock at Dewey avenue United Methodist Church with the pastor, Rev. John Ambsbury, officiating.

Flowers on the altar decorated the sanctuary for the candlelight service and a program of wedding music was furnished by Mrs. Russell West, organist, and Carlin Kolpmeier, soloist.

The latter sang The Lord's Prayer and "One Hand, One Heart."

The bride, escorted by her father, wore an A-line gown of organza, the bodice fashioned of imported re-embroidered Alencon lace with lace trim on the sleeves and train. A floor length veil was held in place with a matching headpiece and the bride carried twelve long-stemmed white roses.

Miss Kathy Hinkley, maid of honor, and Miss Mary Ann Branch, and Miss Sandra Potillo, bridesmaids, wore identical gowns of light pink flowered voile with Empire waists and short puffed sleeves. They held long stemmed white roses tipped in pink with long pink ribbons attached.

Karen Harbert, a niece of the bride, flower girl, was dressed like the older attendants, and carried a decorated basket of pink rose petals.

Mr. Tweed had Alan Scanlan as best man, and Steve Sabo and Ronald Erb as groomsmen. Ronald Barberis and Ray West acted as the guests.

The candles were lighted by Miss Lorie Melichar and Miss Rosemary Tweed, sisters of the bride and groom.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Melichar wore a lavender floral print dress and a corsage of white orchids. The bridegroom's mother selected a blue and white print dress. Her flowers were white tea roses tipped in blue.

The former Miss Melichar graduated from Granite City high school in 1966 and attended Southern Illinois University, southwestern campus, for two years. Mr. Tweed will graduate from SIU Aug. 20 with a BS degree in accounting. He received his early education in the Worden schools. The newlyweds will make their home on Edison avenue for the present but after Mr. Tweed's graduation they plan to reside in Tulsa, Okla., where he will work as a system analyst and programmer for the Shell Oil Co.

Miss Sondra Gaye Johnson Is Bride of Donald Devany

MRS. DONALD DEVANY. Her wedding took place Saturday evening at Nameoki United Methodist Church. She is the former Sondra Johnson.

Altar bouquets of assorted white flowers and burning candles in candelabra provided the setting Saturday evening at Nameoki United Methodist Church for the wedding at 7 o'clock of Miss Sondra Gaye Johnson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ford G. Johnson, 2501 Lynch avenue, and Donald Joseph Devany, a son of Edward Devany, 1018 Third street, Venice.

White ribbon bows marked the pews along the center aisle and a program of wedding music was provided by Mrs. Russell West, organist, and Miss Colleen Robertson, soloist. The songs were "Because," "With This Ring" and the Lord's Prayer.

The Rev. William Fester officiated and a reception followed at the Lewis and Clark Restaurant in East Alton.

The bride's gown of silk organza over tulle was styled with a re-embroidered Alencon lace Empire bodice with kabuki sleeves and a portrait neckline. Lace appliques and seed pearls trimmed the A-line skirt and the full, cathedral train. A toque of matching organza and lace held the bride's tiered illusion veil and she carried three long-stemmed white roses.

The attendants wore gowns of pink linen with gathered A-line skirts. They were seveless, the bodies featuring portrait necklines, circled at the waist with white linen belts. Forward headpieces of petite linen roses were attached to short maline veils.

Mrs. Joyce Edwards, the bride's sister, was matron of honor, and Mrs. Betty Schuster of Chatham, Ill., Mrs. Donna Reilly of Decatur, and Miss Sally Steb served as bridesmaids. Each of the attendants carried three pink roses.

A little flower girl, Robyn Johnson, the bride's sister, dressed like the maid, carried a basket of petals.

Michael Edwards was best man, and groomsmen included James Ebersold, Richard Essington and Daniel Moad.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Johnson chose a pink silk dress and coat ensemble and an open top pillow to match. She wore a corsage of white roses.

The former Miss Johnson attended Granite City high school and was graduated from Eastern Illinois University where she became a member of Delta Zeta sorority. She is presently a member of the faculty of Prather junior high school.

Mr. Devany was graduated from Venice schools and continued his education at Murray State College and Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus. He is an employee of Dow Chemical Co.

The newlyweds will reside at 2322a State street.

Miss Jackson Is Engaged

Another of the recent engagements announced is that of Miss Peggy Sue Jackson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Jackson, 1809 Harris street, Madison, and Donald Ray Townsend, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Townsend of Route One, St. Jacob.

Miss Jackson, a 1966 graduate of the Madison high school, is employed at Scott Air Force Base. Her fiancé, an employee of Olin Mathieson Chemical Co., East Alton, was graduated from Triad high school in 1965. Their wedding will take place Aug. 9 at the United Church of Christ, St. Jacob.

MRS. DANIEL E. SHIPP. The former Truly Lee Bell, her wedding was solemnized Saturday evening at St. John Lutheran Church.

Shipp-Bell Wedding At St. John Lutheran Church

James McMillan, cousin of the bride, and Kenneth Shipp, the bridegroom's brother, were groomsmen. George Stevenson and William Evans, the bride's uncle, seated the guests.

The newlyweds will live at 1302 Twenty-third street. Both young people are graduates of local schools, and the bridegroom is now a senior student at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus.

Rev. Samuel Boda heard the vows of the couple at 7:30 o'clock, and a reception was held at the Long Lake Fire Hall.

The bride's Empire gown was fashioned of imported white lace with trimming of Venice lace at the waist and on the short sleeves. The train, formed of two panels with lace trim, flowed from the waist line, and a matching lace veil of English net was edged with lace. The bridal bouquet was composed of daisies and lilies.

The attendants, Miss Dawn Kamm, maid of honor, and Misses Joyce Shipp, the bridegroom's sister, Kenny Lyons, the bride's sister, Jolynn Sherman, and Linda Evans, the bride's cousin were dressed in A-line gowns of karate in shades of spring pink, maize, orange, lime and light blue. They were designed with short sleeves, high collars trimmed with white Venice lace and velvet ribbon. A train with the same trimming swept from the neckline. Headpieces were of ribbon bows and flowers and they carried daisies dyed to match the aowns.

Robin Misukonis and Ralph Paul Moore, cousins of the bride, were flower girl and ring bearer. The former carried a nosegay of daisies.

William Werner was best man, and Bert Lyons, the bride's brother, Ed Merz, Miss Mildred Marie Freise, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Freise, 1255 Robin street, Venice, and James Coper, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. James E. The wedding of Miss Mary Ellen Yankoff, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Yankoff of Desloge, Mo., a former teacher at the Granite City high school, and H. S. Joyner, whose parents are Dr. and Mrs. Howard Joyner of Arlington, Texas, took place Sunday afternoon at St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Warsaw and Ladue roads, St. Louis county.

The Very Rev. Peter Stamboldjev and the Rev. Joseph Carlo officiated at the 3 o'clock ceremony.

Dinner and dancing at Stouffer's Riverfront Inn in St. Louis followed.

The bride wore an Empire gown of English silk net featuring three-quarter sleeves and a shallow oval neckline. The entire gown was appliqued with Alencon lace traced with seed pearls and bugle beads. A matching cathedral train was detachable and a veil of silk illusion was held in place with a beaded lace cap. The bridal bouquet was made up of stephanotis and moth orchids.

A sister of the bride, Miss Patricia Yankoff of Cambridge, Mass., was honor maid, and the bridesmaids were Miss Cecelia Markuly of Madison, Miss Katharine Busboom, Shawnee Mission, Kans., Miss Suzanne Niemann, Nesconset, Long Island, N. Y., and Miss Jane Johnson of St. Louis. Little Kristin Scullin of St. Louis, served as flower girl.

The attendants were dressed alike in floor-length gowns of conflower blue organza over blue silk belted in pasted striped grosgrain. They carried cascades of white daisies and carnations.

Mr. Joyner had his brother, David W. Joyner of Wayne, Mich., as best man, and Ralph S. Barr, Columbia, Mo., Donald Rolle II, Rogers, Ark., Ralph R. Landry, Webster Groves, Europe and Mexico.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Yankoff chose a mint green silk crepe dress with sleeves and collar beaded with pearls and crystals. Accessories matched the costume and she wore a lavender orchid. The bridegroom's mother was in a light turquoise silk and Alencon lace suit dress and turquoise accessories. A yellow orchid was pinned at her shoulder.

After a month in Mexico the couple will reside in Wichita, Kans., where the bridegroom will teach at the university.

The bride was graduated from Stephens College and Washington University. She was a member of Phi Theta Kappa and Gamma Phi Beta. A former teacher of English at the local high school she has been teaching recently at Lindbergh high school in St. Louis county and has done post graduate work at Boston University, Harvard and Washington University. She has traveled in Europe, the Far East, and the South Pacific. In addition to her teaching duties, she is serving as program chairman for the St. Louis Suburban Teachers of English and a member of the Steering Committee for the Missouri State and National English Teachers' organizations.

Petitions Here Oppose Bill on Pet Breeding

James C. Stuart, 3001 East 23rd street, is coordinating circulation of petitions here in opposition to Illinois Senate Bill 929, which it is contended would eliminate the right to breed or sell household pets.

The bill provides that "no person shall sell household pets unless the care, training, breeding, keeping or selling of household pets constitutes the principal business of such person." The proposed effective date, if passed and signed into law, is Oct. 1.

Stuart, who was saved from drowning by his pet dog in the mid-1950s, said he and many other Quad-Cityans are opposed to the law as an infringement on private enterprise and on the freedom of many individuals and families to raise pets.

He noted that home breeding is superior to kennel breeding in many ways and that such activities result in extensive purchases of dog food and other supplies from local stores. Most of the profit from these sales is used to finance the care of animals for entry in competitive shows, he added.

Hundreds of petition signatures have been obtained, and the petitions are available to the public at Graham's Book Store, Ben's Hardware, Friedman Brothers Furniture, Reese Drug Store on Niedringhaus, Kopyak's Market, Schermer Brother Supermarket and Olympic Gas & Oil.

RIGID, FAULTY VALUES IMPOSED ON STUDENTS

To the Editor:

In reply to the Marshall teacher who defended Marshall school (June 5 Forum) by attacking the concerned parents, I am glad my children do not go to your school.

Your values are not my values. My children would be continually threatened and confused if you were their teacher because their values would conflict with yours. And I would not be surprised if they did. In your classroom or even came to dislike school because of it.

Your letter implies strongly that certain attitudes and actions on the part of parents indicate concern for their children and others indicate lack of concern.

In defense of myself and many other mothers who have never known, or who have rejected, your middle-class values, I question many of the things your letter implies.

1. You equate honors for high scholarship at a university with "parental concern." The relationship is questionable. There are parents of EMH children who are very concerned over the education of their children, but the children will never win honors at a university. On the other hand, parents of many top-ranking students would not meet your criteria of concern.

It is true that more middle than lower-class children go to college, but this is probably due to three factors:

a. They identify with and emulate their college-trained parents.

b. They can afford it.

c. Their values correspond to those of their middle-class teachers; consequently, they don't learn to hate school in the first grade.

2. You suggest that parents demonstrate their concern by attending PTA and volunteering their service for projects. I have attended many PTA meetings and have served as an officer. Most of the meetings I have attended were a complete waste of time, and I swear that I will never sit through another room count.

3. For the uninitiated, room count is the contest in which the parents stand and are counted. Their children's names are called. The room having the most parents in attendance is the winner.

It is difficult for me to express how much I resent the pressure put on my children to get me to go to PTA meetings. If the PTA wishes to invite me, please call me an invitation—but please don't have contests among the children to get me there.

It is undervalued to make me feel that I am "letting my children down" by not attending meetings which I find to be of questionable benefit to them.

3. You accuse parents of giving their children a hamburger and telling them to eat it and not bother them. Admittedly, this is not a pretty picture.

Star Passer Could Throw Confidence in Sports For a Big Loss With His Underworld Contacts

Ever since the "Black Sox" baseball scandal, it has been obvious that professional sports teams must be scrupulous in the conduct of public confidence is to be maintained. For this reason, Football Commissioner Rozelle is right and Quarterback Namath is wrong in their controversy over the player's part ownership of a New York City tavern frequented by gamblers.

The whole idea behind the extensive betting, legal and illegal, that occurs is that everyone has an even chance if his judgment and luck are good. As long as horses are not doped, the reasoning goes, each will do his best; the animal does not understand nor care who has backed him financially and who has not.

It becomes a bit more difficult when human beings are the performers, because everyone misses a catch or throws poorly on occasion. It is impossible to look inside someone's mind to see whether he was intentional. Retically, the desire to excel and earn higher pay, as well as an individual's pride, motivate him to try to do his best at all times.

Because large sums are bet on nearly all professional athletic events, a "fix" could provide vast winnings. An athlete who could make sure a particular team wins or loses or who could "deliver" a particular game would endear himself to the underworld to the tune of a big fraction of what was earned.

An outright fix is probably rare, and certainly no such impropriety by Namath was alleged. He and all others in his league are barred from betting on the games; two players were suspended for a year in the 1960s for violating this rule.

But frequent contact between players and hoodlums unfortunately has developed in a number of major cities and it takes little imagination to visualize casual exchanges of knowledge—that a particular star is a doubtful starter in the next game, that another is ill and under par, or that a third appears to have solved past deficiencies in his latest practice drills.

The commissioner is right in taking a stern stand, even against one of the most famous passers. More crackdowns may prove necessary, in view of the many unwise "friendships" that exist.

Never argue with a fool; onlookers may not be able to tell who is which.

statement and further stated that the teachers only want to be paid for their skills and ability.

Fortunately, for our children there still remain a number of teachers who do care for their jobs and appreciate the satisfaction derived from the accomplishment and the end result of their teaching.

But again, from discussion with other parents, I am very sure that a number of the attitude of so many teachers today who over-teach their formal education, forget to give a little of themselves, and are very un-plished and the end result of their teaching.

More State, Federal Action Needed to Make Sure Judges Concentrate on Their Sole Duty

Charges naming two Illinois Supreme Court justices that an added spotlight onto the issue of whether judges at any level should have outside business interests or associations of any kind. Their duties may call upon them to rule on virtually any aspect of society. Ideally, they should have neither something to gain nor a point of view separate from the laws they apply and interpret.

In the Illinois case, Justice Klingbird has acknowledged accepting stock in a Chicago bank before writing an opinion upholding a circuit court dismissal of conflict of interest, collusion and conspiracy charges against a former Illinois state revenue director. The stock was received from an Illinois Commerce Commission director who was a longtime friend of Revenue Director Isaacs. Justice Solisberg is alleged to have served as an attorney for the same bank.

With both the court and the revenue official likely to be the subject of investigations, it is not surprising that the Illinois legislature is not acting on a Senate-passed bill repealing a 1967 law which requires judges to give up any positions as officer or director in for-profit corporations by the end of 1970.

The existing statute should remain in effect. And at the federal level, where Supreme Court Justice Fortas has resigned and Justice Douglas should seriously consider his resignation, there should be widespread support for the new U. S. Judicial Conference rulings forbidding all federal judges below Supreme Court level to accept outside fees and ordering lower federal judges to file annual reports of their investments and other assets.

Because the Judicial Conference has no jurisdiction over the Supreme Court, Congressional action should be appropriate this year. We also favor a close look by all state legislatures at the adequacy or inadequacy of their present laws affecting courts.

The position of judge is an honored and usually well-paid post. Those who accept the honor and duty should be willing to give up outside activities that conceivably could interfere with their primary responsibility.

Bright Outlook for Major Illinois Airports; All Parties Should Cooperate to Achieve It

As noted by the Regional Industrial Development Corporation, an Illinois airport located closer to downtown St. Louis than Lambert field could become an immediate financial success as well as improving safety conditions at Lambert by relieving it of some of its growing passenger and freight traffic.

With the Illinois state government picking up most of the development cost and the city of St. Louis, Lambert's owner, extending its cooperation, the stage would be set for achievement of the long-neglected second major airport for this metropolitan area. Airlines would meet most of the operating costs once the new field went into use.

Governor Ogilvie and Mayor Cervantes deserve full cooperation in their efforts to implement the proposal in the fall and winter following August completion of a $20,000 site and feasibility study funded by the Illinois General Assembly.

Legislation in Illinois and perhaps in Missouri will be needed to work out the details of bond issues, expenditures and management. Success is not yet assured, but the outlook is brighter than ever before. Everything that is feasible and possible should be done to make this new airport a reality.

After all, with their high education, why should it be necessary to give to themselves, especially if they aren't paid over time for it?

Maybe just a few minutes after school would solve the difficult problem of how to give a little of themselves, and are very un-plished and the end result of their teaching.

But again, from discussion with other parents, I am very sure that a number of the attitude of so many teachers today who over-teach their formal education, forget to give a little of themselves, and are very un-

50 YEARS AGO

JUNE 16, 1919

Despite sweltering heat, 10,000 soldiers, sailors and civilians marched here on Flag Day as part of a homecoming welcoming back the servicemen. After a flag ceremony at the Ellis building, the marchers proceeded down 25th and D streets to a review stand at 20th and C streets.

Mayor Bert E. Hodges of Granite City introduced the main speaker, Thomas Williamson, Edwardsville attorney, who gave a patriotic address. A ton of meat was barbecued at the city hall grounds, and hundreds attended an evening dance on C street between 20th and 21st streets.

25 YEARS AGO

JUNE 16, 1944

Organization Democrats will support for Lévee District trustees B. C. Cooper, Alvin F. Hilde and Dan Foley, all of East St. Louis, Harry Odum, Madison, and Kenneth T. Ogle, Granite City. Also running is Frank Enos of Madison.

The Red Cross War Fund Campaign is within $1300 of its goal, for $100 an acre.

Teachers are still here, but their existence is becoming rare and passing. "Out of Town Teacher," I can tell you how much you are so misinformed about Granite City.

We have had many truly wonderful teachers in our system many of the single status, but don't kid yourself; single or married they have made great strides and achieved much by their dedicated teaching.

Education is wonderful and essential, but don't overestimate your degrees.

Good common sense and a helpful attitude go a long way in reaching our children and preparing them to reach their attainment and goals in this already so very mixed-up world.

A VERY CONCERNED PARENT AND TAXPAYER

CALLS PAY OFFER LOW

To the Editor:

I believe that the children of Granite City are fortunate in the fact that they are receiving the best in education.

Parents only pick-up at the Youth Focus column to see the accomplishments made by our students.

This is made possible through the efforts of our dedicated teachers. Teachers are putting their time into education and what the normal school day requires.

If they are rewarded for these efforts? For the past two years they have been receiving a salary below the salaries of teachers in surrounding areas.

So, for the coming school year, the board is not only offering to teachers one of the lowest salaries in the area, but one of the lowest in the state.

In order to maintain the level of education that our students are now receiving, it is imperative and only just that our teachers should receive a salary at least comparable to that of our surrounding districts.

A fair salary will not only attract good new teachers to the district, but it would also be an incentive for the good teachers we now have to remain here.

TEACHER AND RESIDENT

COST OF PROPOSED LAKE PARK CALLED EXCESSIVE

To the Editor:

I have read about the state being in financial difficulty. So now we will have to pay a state income tax, and higher property tax.

Now, $2,000,000 to be spent for 1700 acres of swamp, Oh yes, $2,000,000 in a fair price, was acquired by paying back taxes.

About 12 years ago, I went to an auction, and they sold one of that swamp for $50 an acre. A short time later they sold 78 acres, 40 of it good farming land, for $100 an acre.

I think the owners of this land called Horseshoe Lake should let it be sold for the price they paid for this 1700 acres of land, and when they bought it. Then the taxpayers can determine if $2,000,000 is a fair price. I think about $250,000 would be the price.

We also the newspapers should check into this. Did land go up 10 times as high in a few years? I doubt it!

In 1970, the sponsors of this Horseshoe Lake park will come up for re-election. That will be the time to show Rep. Ralph Smith how much we like him by voting for someone else.

Scope, Variety and Long History of the National Palace Museum of the Republic of China Unmatched By Any Other Art Museum in World

By WILLIAM F. WINTER

Several U. S. art museums and collections boast excellent Chinese sections. But all such displays pale into insignificance when compared with what may well be the greatest of all museums of any kind in the world—the National Palace Museum at Taipei, Taiwan (Nationalist China).

Spanning 50 centuries, the well-preserved, diverse and thoroughly catalogued collection is so immense that only 2% is shown to the public any one time, the other 98% being sheltered in a tunnel within the wooded mountain on which the main building stands.

Transported with President Chiang Kai-shek to several points during the war in which the Communists prevailed, the artworks and relics were saved in 1949-50 by being moved along with vast numbers of refugees to the island of Taiwan.

The 14,000-square-mile island, shaped like a tobacco leaf, is jammed with a population of 14 million, several million more than 20 years ago.

Taiwan is designated as a province (state) of the Republic of China. With the republic at present confined to Taiwan, the island contains both the national government, whose temporary headquarters are at Taipei, and all 22 provincial governments, whose capital is Taichung.

The National Palace Museum actually is located in the western Taipei suburb called Wai-shuang-shih, 18 minutes from downtown Taipei.

The imposing yellow structure conforms to ancient Chinese architecture. The art treasures it contains are, in view of their authenticity, quantity and placeability, priceless in value in every sense of the word.

Most of its 300,000 art objects at one time were housed in the Peiping Palace Museum.

The present museum on Taiwan lives up to its name. Not only is its exterior like a palace, but it contains the treasures of many emperors and dynasties, perpetuating an unbroken chain of history linking the world of 1950 with eras dating back thousands of years before the birth of Christ.

The National Palace Museum was not opened until 1965 due to earlier concentration on making Taiwanese agriculture one of the most efficient anywhere and on accelerating the island's industrial development.

Visitors have passed the two million mark, averaging 500,000 a year, and the level of tourism is increasing. A banner year is anticipated in 1970, when many thousands and others will be in the Far East to attend the world exposition at Osaka, Japan.

Surveyed by a quarter of all tourists who visit Taipei make the trip primarily to see the museum, whose displays are rotated so that all items will be shown eventually.

Even if its extensive displays were changed every three months, it would take ten years to present the entire collection.

Included are more than 4000 items of bronze, over 3000 items of jade, over 23,000 items of porcelain, more than 6000 items of paintings and calligraphy and about 150,000 volumes of rare books.

Other categories include lacquer ware, enamel, ivory and historical documents.

Outstanding in the collection are the calligraphy from the T'ain and T'ang dynasties, the paintings of T'ang and Sung, the bronzes and Jades of Shang and Chou and some of the best representative Chinese porcelain in the world.

The impact of even a fraction of the total display is to give a striking visual idea of the cultural and artistic achievements of China during the past 50 centuries.

One can observe at leisure inscribed bronze vessels traced to 1700 to 300 B. C., fine bronze of the 9th to 12th A. D. period and enjoy porcelains from all the famous kilns, including the ware of the Sung dynasty, reviewing the evolution of their style and shape.

A typical bronze might be a Lei, or wine vessel, complete with animal and bird designs. A porcelain item that catches the eye might be an incense burner of Kuan ware, complete with handles and featuring moon white glaze. Sculptured bronze might include a natural birch root shaped to resemble a figure of Lao-tzu riding a cow.

In May, when 47 members of the International Committee of Weekly Newspaper Editors were in the Far East, the lobby was filled with conservationists and school children included among the many visitors.

Among the paintings on display was one never exhibited before, "The Tathagata Preaching the Law," depicting Buddha sitting on his throne surrounded by six figures.

Flames encircle his halo. The detail of hands and feet is exceptionally solid and descriptive. The drapery style of the painting is associated with the artist Ts'ao Chung-tung of the Northern Ch'ing dynasty (580-577 A.D.) and also was apparent in Chinese culture of the Northern Wei dynasty (386-535 A.D.).

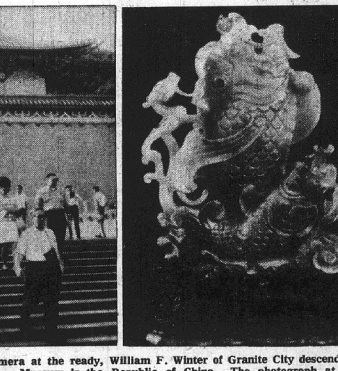

Also on display was the Ming painting "Lotus" by Yan Hui, including the artist's inscription relating that in June 1006 A.D. he saw two lotus blossoms flowering on a stalk and decided to copy them. Although he points out that flowers were not his specialty, the brushwork and coloring are fresh and original.

Painting is considered an integral part of Chinese culture. As the predominant art of China, it conceptualizes all the beauty and much of the philosophy found in the world's oldest civilizations.

Six basic canons outlined by Hsieh Ho 1400 years ago are still followed today. They require rhythm and movement, structure, conformity with nature and natural proportions, and appropriate color. Composition must be consistent, artistic and in accord with the dictates of space.

Easy to look at but hard to evaluate or even to describe, Chinese painting achieves a unity of idea and technique unknown to Western art. Each artist strives for the perfection of his technique as part of his philosophy of painting, not merely as a matter of craftsmanship.

He is an impressionist in that he feels free to omit objects not Souvenirs in hand and camera at the ready, William F. Winter of Granite City descends the steps of the National Palace Museum in the Republic of China. essential to his ideas. A fish may swim through water which is not there: the flowing lines of the fish convey a spirit of movement, and the viewer must use his imagination for the rest.

Though tending toward the impressionistic, Chinese painting never goes to the point of abstraction. A degree of realism is always present, and sometimes to such a degree that it seems to breathe actual life into an object or scene long since gone from the earth.

Just as the past has been given new life, there is no fear that Chinese painting will become a lost art in future years. It still flourishes, and hundreds of professional painters preserve the time-honored traditions.

Some collection began in the 17th century, and by the Sung dynasty—the time of Emperor Hui-tsung, 1120 A.D.—complete catalogues of calligraphy and paintings of the Hsuan Ho Shu Pu and the Hsuan Ho Hui Pu were prepared.

Art treasures originally in the Sung royal collection suffered some losses through the invasion of Chin Tartars in 1127, but the collection was reconstituted. It was passed to the Yuan palace when the Mongolians took over, and was preserved at Peking.

When the Ming dynasty succeeded Yuan in 1368, it inherited these items of antiquity and fine arts, and the collection was moved to Nanjing and then back to Peking when the Ming capital changed location.

The end of the Ming dynasty in 1644, it came into the possession of Ch'ing; such dynasty had added new acquisitions and new works of art.

Emperor Ch'ien-lung (1711-1799) was an avid patron of the arts. Many antique items in civilian possession were returned to the royal collection and he added considerably to the number of paintings and fewer porcelains. The trinkets and curios he amassed were numerous, were mostly of fine craftsmanship.

Some of these art objects were stolen and destroyed when the English and French troops entered Peking and burned the Yuan Ming Yuan. After the revolution, the Republic of China became the custodian of this legacy.

While the last emperor, P'u Yi, continued to reside in the back quarters of the palace until 1924, the front and side areas became display halls. In 1925, the entire palace grounds and buildings came under the care of the National Palace Museum.

The museum's collection of the wealth of Chinese art was fully revealed to the world.

The threat of Japanese invasion and world wars in the 1930s and 1940s, to Shanghai, Nanjing, Szechuan and Kweichow. The thousands of crates were moved about on railroads, cars and trucks and, eventually, on boats.

In its present quarters, it has been joined by the National Central Museum and contains artifacts from not only the palace of Peking but the summer palaces at Jolai and Mukden.

Camping at Grassy Lake For the Handicapped

A summer-long series of camps for kids who don't have it so good begins June 29 on the shores of Little Grassy Lake, 10 miles from Carbondale.

It will be the 15th annual resident camping program conducted by Southern Illinois University at its Outdoor Laboratory, and designed foremost for children with mental and physical handicaps, as well as those who are underprivileged.

One and two week sessions for a total of more than 600 children are scheduled through the second week of August at the two camp communities operated by SIU in the Laboratory.

One—called Akwesasne—will be filled with youngsters sponsored by the Soldiers and Sailors Home in Normal and the Illinois Welfare Association in cooperation with the Illinois Youth Commission.

The other—Little Giant—will be populated by children in wheelchairs, children in braces and supports, children with canes, and children limited by the irreversible condition of mental retardation.

Despite their disabilities, the campers at Little Giant will be living it up outdoors in ways little different from those in the "normal" setting of Akwesasne.

Horseback riding, archery, swimming, overnight "campouts" in the wild, riflery, crafts and nature study are activities common to both.

Handpicked high school and college students, many of them veterans of several Little Grassy Camp seasons, will serve as workers and counselors. At Little Giant—where the ratio between counselors and campers may be as low as one-to-two—workers will live with their handicapped charges around the clock.

Both camps in the lakeside complex include cabin and dormitory facilities, dining halls and activity areas. Glenn (Chip) Marlow of Herin, an SIU June graduate in forestry and three-year varsity football letterman, will direct Camp Akwesasne.

Heading the program for handicapped children at Little Giant will be Stephen Fratini of Marion, SIU junior in the College of Education who has been a resident student worker in the Outdoor Laboratory for three years.

Counselors will report a week early (June 22) for special program training.

Other resident camping programs scheduled in the Laboratory during the summer include Camp Ben Franklin, sponsored by the Jewish Federation of Southern Illinois; the national Red Cross Aquatic School; Conservation Workshops from June through August, sponsored by the Illinois Office of Public Instruction and various community civic and sportsmen's groups in Illinois; a late August camp for adults with cerebral palsy, sponsored by the Illinois Cerebral Palsy Association; and the annual SIU Alumni camp.

75 to Attend Church Meet in Kansas City

Angelo Scaglione, presiding minister of the local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, has announced that Jehovah's Witnesses from this area have been invited to attend an eight-day international assembly at Kansas City, Mo., July 18-25.

About 36,000 delegates will attend the gathering at the Municipal Stadium. Although the majority will come from the Midwest, some from Germany, Venezuela, India, Peru, Mexico, Korea and Canada have sent requests for accommodations.

The Kansas City assembly is one of seven such meetings in the U. S. this summer, with 25 scheduled in various countries around the world. All have the theme, "Peace on Earth."

The major address, "The Approaching Peace of a Thousand Years," reflects belief that "true peace will come to the earth in the near future."

It will be delivered by N. H. Knorr, president of the Watch Tower Society, the organization which directs the worldwide activities of Jehovah's Witnesses.

There are nearly 1,200,000 Witnesses in 200 countries and their ranks are increasing at a rate of 1200 each week.

In addition to U. S. conventions, by the end of this year 17 principal cities in Mexico, Europe, the Far East, Australia and New Zealand will have hosted a "Peace and Earth" international assembly, with attendance figures in the hundreds of thousands. About 75 members of the local congregation are planning to go to Kansas City.

Gains Made in Felony, Law Cases during May

Gains were made in backlogs of felony, law and condemnation cases in Madison county circuit court during May, according to Willard Portell, circuit clerk. Overall, 3077 cases were handled during the month. Twenty-five criminal cases were started and 26 were disposed of during the month. Forty-three defendants were involved: Twenty were dismissed, 21 pleaded guilty and two were convicted by a jury. Of those convicted, nine were sent to prison and 14 were granted probation.

Sixty-seven jury and non-jury cases involving more than $10,000 and 104 cases involving $10,000 or less (handled by magistrates) were terminated during the month, which Portell called a heavy work load in both categories.

Six condemnation cases were disposed of, and with a slowdown in highway construction in the county, only 35 such cases remain to be tried. A summer docket will dispose of many divorce cases, and probate cases remain stable, Portell said.

Misdemeanor and traffic cases usually are brief and do not cause concern to the court, the clerk added.

The trend of all cases follows:

Law, more than $10,000, jury, 48 started, 43 terminated, 1150 pending; non-jury, 28 started, 33 terminated, 86 pending; law less than $10,000, jury, 16 started, 35 completed, 520 pending; non-jury, 68 started, 79 ended, 497 terminated.

Small claims, 288 started, 372 ended, 1431 pending; tax, 880 pending; condemnation, six terminated, 35 pending; miscellaneous remedies, 17 started, 20 ended, 215 pending; chancery, 10 started, nine ended, 340 pending; family, 139 started, 162 ended.

Divorce, 138 started, 126 ended, 1232 pending; probate, 61 started, 35 ended; felony, 25 started, 28 ended, 112 pending; misdemeanor, 739 started, 397 ended, 2027 pending; and traffic, 1557 started and 1533 ended.

A traditional white gown with long lace sleeves trimmed with sequins was worn by the bride. It featured an apron front of lace with seed pearl and sequin trim and a long train. A pearl tiara held in place a tiered veil of illusion, and the bride carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with a large white orchid.

A program of wedding music was furnished by Miss Luvenia

Gorman, and attendants were Miss Edith Monroe, the bridegroom's sister, maid of honor, and Miss Renee Taylor and Miss Vickie Nichols, the bride's cousin, bridesmaids. They were dressed alike in long pink chiffon gowns with long sleeves and matching chiffon coats. Their flowers were carnations tipped in pink. Two-tier pink veils were held in place with pearl tiaras.

Danna Kay Jeter and Eddie Meyer, sister and cousin of the bride, served as flower girl and ring bearer. The former, dressed like the older girls, carried a basket of flowers. Gary Bowman was best man for Mr. Monroe, and Terry Williams a maid of honor for Mrs. Monroe.

After a honeymoon in the Ozarks, the couple will live at 2363 Washington avenue. The bride was graduated this month from the Collinsville high school where she served as librarian for three years. Mr. Monroe is employed by the American Steel Foundries. He attended the Granite City high school.

Double-Ring Ceremony for Stephens-Bolton Nuptials

A double-ring wedding ceremony for Miss Donna J. Bolton, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bolton of 3100 Aubrey avenue, and James L. Stephens, son of James L. Stephens of Collinsville and the late Mrs. Velma Stephens, was performed by Rev. John Polizzi at 7 p.m. Saturday in the Tri-City Park Tabernacle Church.

Decorations in the church were two large branched candelabra with a brass arch and arrangements of green and white summer flowers in brass urns with white satin bows at each of the pews.

Mrs. William Hildreth, soloist, was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Alan Johnson, who furnished several wedding selections.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a pure white Chantilly lace gown, fashioned with an Empire bodice, oval neckline encircled with pearls and long sleeves. Scallop lace formed a redingote effect from a cresent waistline, flowing gently into a full sweep train at the back.

She wore a forward headpiece of lace and pearls, securing a tiered veil of bridal illusion and carried an arrangement of white carnations.

Mrs. Jerry Gage, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor, serving with Mrs. Linda Vaughn, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Lisa Bolton, the bride's sister, as bridesmaids. They were dressed in identical mint green gowns, designed with high rounded necklines banded with satin and white Venice lace motifs. The bands of satin and floral motifs were repeated in the long full puffed sleeves of the skimming gowns. Matching headpieces held in place short circular veils and each carried a bouquet of white daisies.

Little Miss Lori Lynn Gage, a niece of the bride, was the flower girl and Brian Gage was ring bearer. A white floor length dress, worn by the flower girl, featuring a bodice of lace with a high neck and long sleeves. The A-line skirt was of peau de soie and she wore a matching headpiece and carried a basket of rose petals.

The groom's attendants included Jerry Gage, a brother-in-law of the bride, as best man, and Donald Vaughn, the bride's cousin, and Robert York as groomsmen.

Ushers were Richard Stephens, a brother of the groom, and Howard Bolton Jr., the bride's brother.

Mrs. Bolton chose for her daughter's wedding a street length, Navy blue and white suit with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

A reception for wedding guests, was given following the ceremony at the VFW Hall in Granite City.

The former Miss Bolton was graduated in 1967 from Granite City high school and is employed as a secretary at the Army Command Headquarters in St. Louis.

Miss Nancy Jean Wetzel Is Bride of Richard Bunte

The parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Wetzel, 3200 Wayne avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon C. Bunte, 13 Washington place, Edwardsville.

Rev. Dr. David Bruce Maxton heard the vows of the couple at 7 o'clock. Lighted candles in candelabra illuminated the scene and arrangements of mixed white flowers adorned the altar. White satin bows marked the family pews for the double-ring ceremony.

Mr. Wetzel gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of white satin with a French lace cage over-dress. Self scalloped lace trimmed the sleeves and the edge of the hem. Crystal beading further enhanced the bodice and a large lace and satin bow held in place an elbow-length veil of illusion. The bride carried a bouquet of white moth orchids with a cascade of pink roses.

A program of wedding music was provided by Mrs. Isabel Schmidt, organist, and Miss Mary Ellen Zikovich, soloist. The songs were "With This Ring," "The Lord's Prayer" and "Somewhere My Love."

Seven attendants preceded the bride and her father down the aisle.

They were Miss Grace McCance, maid of honor, and Miss Judith Barylske, Miss Mary Wetzel, a sister of the bride, Miss Jane Bunte, the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Phil Tempel, another sister of the bride, Mr. Robert Wetzel, a sister-in-law, and Miss Judith Gaghan, bridesmaids.

The maid of honor was in a gown of apricot ribbed rayon acetate with a round neck, short sleeves and an A-line skirt. A large apricot bow of rayon formed her headpiece and she carried a nosegay of apricot tinted carnations topped with white daisies.

The maids were similarly attired in pink, blue, and yellow gowns and headbows to match. Their flowers were nosegays of white carnations and daisies. Streamers matched their gowns.

Gary Lane was best man for Mr. Bunte, and groomsmen and ushers included James Turner, Ronald Eberhardt, Daniel Hayes, Thomas Schmidt, cousin of the bridegroom, AF Sgt. Robert Wetzel, a brother of the bride, and Phil Tempel, a brother-in-law.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Wetzel wore a dress of light pink, pink and white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Insecticide Spraying Set to Start Tuesday

Aerial spraying of insecticides in portions of Madison and St. Clair counties is expected to start tomorrow.

Director John W. Lewis of the Illinois Department of Agriculture said the spraying, which will cover 1750 acres in the vicinity of Horseshoe Lake, will be done without cost to the owners or occupants of land and buildings.

Expenses will be borne jointly by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and Illinois Department of Agriculture.

New Minimum Wind
Plans for the spray program were coordinated by the USDA and the Illinois Interagency Pesticides Committee.

Persons seeking additional details on the spray program may contact Warren Bundy, Madison county farm adviser, at 656-7206; Mike Hardiman, St. Clair county farm adviser, at 233-1047; or Herbert Seifert, horticultural inspection supervisor for the state Department of Agriculture, at 312-698-4928.

According to Supervisor of Trades Al Felchla of Highland and Supervisor of Grounds William Gentry of Alhambra, the crews have done a "great job."

Reinforcing the praise for the men is test-maker "Skip" Manley, who adds, "They're the ones who put up the tent, not me. The men have really worked hard. I want them to get the credit they deserve."

More than 60 craftsmen have been involved. Included are carpenters, electricians, plumbers, painters and laborers. Also working at the site have been truck drivers, operators, teamsters and a welder under the supervision of Gentry.

All work that could feasibly be done by university crews has been undertaken by the university. Some portions of the project were sub-contracted.

Manley, who adds, "The prevalence of the audience has been considered, including an emergency generator so the audience will never be subject to a possible major power failure."

Race Against Time
It's been a race against time for the crews of Felchla and Gentry have the responsibility of coordinating men and materials to get the job done. Manley has complete responsibility for the time limitations.

With the time limitations, Carpenter foreman Roy Mushill of Bethalto queried, "I wonder if it was by accident or design that the Symphony's opening concert include Schubert's 'Unfinished Symphony'?"

Thanks to the workmen, the number will not be symbolic. SWSU crews include:

Carpenters — Foreman Ed Vaughn, Steve Dorogobail and Charles Kunick, all of Granite City.

Groundsman — Steve Knezovich of Madison.

The 96-man staff consists of the following categories: carpenters, 15; extra carpenters, four; electricians, 15; painter, five; mechanic foreman, one; grounds gardener, one; groundsman, 18; horticultural, one; laborers, 25; maintenance laborer, one; maintenance workers, two; nurseryman, one; operating engineer, one; painters, five; plumbers, six; and truck drivers, three.

Parking Lot Accident
While being backed into a parking space, an auto driven by Gary M. St. Ivany, 3715 Fair Oaks drive, struck the parked auto of Albert Jackson, 2069 Fourteenth street, at the Maryland Bi-Rite store on Pontoon road at 12:55 p.m. Friday.

be conducted with ground spraying in the late fall.

The grub of the Japanese beetle attacks roots of wheat and is a serious pest of lawns, golf courses and pastures. The adult beetle is a serious pest of many agricultural and horticultural plants and crops, ornamental trees and shrubs.

The follow-up program in the fall will be done before the ground is frozen and will be concentrated in about 800 acres of ditches, roadways and yards where it is anticipated the bulk of the surviving beetles will be feeding.

Crews at Music Festival Site Nearly Finished

Converting a natural amphitheater into an entertainment facility for 10,000 in less than eight weeks is no mean task.

But this has been the responsibility of the physical plant crews of SIU-SW. Gene Cobbel is director of the campus physical plant.

Results of their less than two months of work will be evidenced on Friday, opening night of the Mississippi River Festival. Featured at the six-week festival will be weekend concerts by the St. Louis Symphony, with a series of popular artists brought in for one-night stands.

New Lighting, Roads
Patrons of the festival will find "all comforts of home" at the festival site, including buildings for food service, box offices and restrooms. In addition, the crews have installed lighting, parking areas and roads, and erected a white tent to house the nearly 200 reserved seats.

According to Supervisor of Trades Al Felchla of Highland and Supervisor of Grounds William Gentry of Alhambra, the crews have done a "great job."

Cost of Food Stamps To Be Lower for Some

Effective in July in Illinois, the purchase requirement for food stamps will be reduced for non-public assistance families with monthly income of less than $70. The bonus will be increased, making the purchase of food stamps for these families easier.

Approximately $3 million in food stamps have been purchased by Madison county residents since the program began here in December 1965. One million dollars of that total represents free or bonus coupons from the U. S. Department of Agriculture. In addition to helping low-income families purchase food, the $1 million bonus aided the economy of the area through retail and wholesale business and bank deposits.

At present, over 400 people in this county are participating in the food stamp program. Anyone receiving public assistance is eligible, and other low-income families may be eligible if they meet certain requirements for income and liquid assets.

Liquid assets (cash, bond or stocks) limitation for one person is $400; for two or more persons is $800. Income limit for one person is $139 per month, and two persons, $182 a month.

Persons are graduated, according to the number in a household, to $450 per month in income for one person, $550 for two persons, $650 for three persons, $750 for four persons, $850 for five persons, $950 for six persons, $1,050 for seven persons, $1,150 for eight persons, $1,250 for nine persons, $1,350 for ten persons, $1,450 for eleven persons, $1,550 for twelve persons, $1,650 for thirteen persons, $1,750 for fourteen persons, $1,850 for fifteen persons, $1,950 for sixteen persons, $2,050 for seventeen persons, $2,150 for eighteen persons, $2,250 for nineteen persons, $2,350 for twenty persons, $2,450 for twenty-one persons, $2,550 for twenty-two persons, $2,650 for twenty-three persons, $2,750 for twenty-four persons, $2,850 for twenty-five persons, $2,950 for twenty-six persons, $3,050 for twenty-seven persons, $3,150 for twenty-eight persons, $3,250 for twenty-nine persons, $3,350 for thirty persons, $3,450 for thirty-one persons, $3,550 for thirty-two persons, $3,650 for thirty-three persons, $3,750 for thirty-four persons, $3,850 for thirty-five persons, $3,950 for thirty-six persons, $4,050 for thirty-seven persons, $4,150 for thirty-eight persons, $4,250 for thirty-nine persons, $4,350 for forty persons, $4,450 for forty-one persons, $4,550 for forty-two persons, $4,650 for forty-three persons, $4,750 for forty-four persons, $4,850 for forty-five persons, $4,950 for forty-six persons, $5,050 for forty-seven persons, $5,150 for forty-eight persons, $5,250 for forty-nine persons, $5,350 for fifty persons, $5,450 for fifty-one persons, $5,550 for fifty-two persons, $5,650 for fifty-three persons, $5,750 for fifty-four persons, $5,850 for fifty-five persons, $5,950 for fifty-six persons, $6,050 for fifty-seven persons, $6,150 for fifty-eight persons, $6,250 for fifty-nine persons, $6,350 for sixty persons, $6,450 for sixty-one persons, $6,550 for sixty-two persons, $6,650 for sixty-three persons, $6,750 for sixty-four persons, $6,850 for sixty-five persons, $6,950 for sixty-six persons, $7,050 for sixty-seven persons, $7,150 for sixty-eight persons, $7,250 for sixty-nine persons, $7,350 for seventy persons, $7,450 for seventy-one persons, $7,550 for seventy-two persons, $7,650 for seventy-three persons, $7,750 for seventy-four persons, $7,850 for seventy-five persons, $7,950 for seventy-six persons, $8,050 for seventy-seven persons, $8,150 for seventy-eight persons, $8,250 for seventy-nine persons, $8,350 for eighty persons, $8,450 for eighty-one persons, $8,550 for eighty-two persons, $8,650 for eighty-three persons, $8,750 for eighty-four persons, $8,850 for eighty-five persons, $8,950 for eighty-six persons, $9,050 for eighty-seven persons, $9,150 for eighty-eight persons, $9,250 for eighty-nine persons, $9,350 for ninety persons, $9,450 for ninety-one persons, $9,550 for ninety-two persons, $9,650 for ninety-three persons, $9,750 for ninety-four persons, $9,850 for ninety-five persons, $9,950 for ninety-six persons, $10,050 for ninety-seven persons, $10,150 for ninety-eight persons, $10,250 for ninety-nine persons, $10,350 for one hundred persons.

Higher Tax Cost is Prospect of Future

(Fifth and Last of a Series)
By HARRY BARNES

The rise in tax costs incurred by local government agencies of the Quad-City area during the past decade—as outlined in previous articles of this series—shows little promise of diminishing in the immediate future.

Quite the reverse is true. Within the next few years the school districts, the cities and the county government are expected to set the pace in demands for more and more tax funds to meet not only the higher costs of present governmental activities but also to finance a wider range of operations.

Granite City School District 9 and the city of Granite City already have prospects of higher tax levies for their 1970 year, and therefore higher tax rates and higher tax bills for the property owners. Neither the school district nor the city has yet drafted 1969-70 budget and appropriations.

New Bond Rate
In its tax levy this year the school district will add a tax rate for payment of bond principal and interest on the new $4.7 million building bond issue which it sold recently. That rate is expected to run about 21 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

In addition, the school district has referendum approval of a 40-cent tax rate increase in the educational fund tax rate, and the district may levy any part of that amount at any time as the money is needed. Determination of the budget figures will decide just how much of that rate may be extended for new taxes to be collected in 1970.

The budget figures themselves will depend to a great extent upon the school district's settlement of its present contract dispute with union faculty members, as well as upon a determination by the state legislature of the amount of per pupil state aid that will be paid in the future.

Officials of the teachers union are demanding a raise guaranteed with or without an increase in state aid, a factor that would dip heavily into the school district's regular school operating funds in the event that increased state aid should not be provided, or not provided to the extent of a presently estimated $520 per pupil. State aid now is paid on the basis of $400 per pupil.

To Build New Schools
The school district is preparing to build a new junior high and grade schools that, when completed, will require staffing by teachers, equipping, furnishing and, thereafter, maintenance and operation on a regular basis that will increase the present level of operating costs.

School officials also are undertaking compliance with state regulations that would permit a 2-cent tax rate for special education which could be levied this year for collection in 1970. The city of Granite City also faces a series of circumstances that is certain to send its operating costs, and consequently its tax rate, upward next year. Not the least of these is a number of sewer breaks in the old Namedji area, sewer lines that could result in repair costs running possibly as high as a half million dollars.

An item of $315,000 has been placed in the tentative budget for discussion purposes to finance repair of sewer breaks. Although this figure may, and probably will be revised, it will constitute an additional tax levy item and result in a tax rate increase.

New Salary Demands
Also unsettled at this point are demands by police, firemen and street department employees for salary increases. Demands of the union groups have not been made public but they are expected to exceed considerably the $52,000 flat figure set in the tentative budget to accommodate all salary demands.

Substantial increases in the budgets of the police and fire departments have been listed in the tentative budget, even with salaries listed about the same as they were last year. Last year's budget for the police department amounting to $382,952 has been set at $424,098 in the new tentative budget, while last year's fire department budget of $344,096 has been increased this year to $420,378 on the basis of the tentative figures. Any salary increases would be in addition to these totals.

Madison county has been increasing its tax levy annually during the past five years and there are no indications of cutbacks that might deter this practice to result in a tax rate reduction next year. It appears likely, in fact, that county officials may act soon on several proposed building proposals that would require additional funds.

Have Other Funds
It must be remembered that reference to tax costs of the tax agencies does not encompass their overall expenditures. A great portion of school district costs, for example, are financed with state and federal in anticipated expenditures came from sources other than taxation. In summation then, it is apparent that the big business of government operation is becoming bigger every year, and more costly to the taxpayer.
